

The Foothills District Clergy Connection

Volume 2, Issue 8

August 2007

Cold Welcome

Cathy and I attended a family wedding on the other side of the state. The next morning we attended worship at a church near us. The music was wonderful. The preaching was outstanding. The hospitality was cold. Only one person spoke to us after the service. She was most gracious.

No one welcomed us at the door. We had not been in the building before and had to search to find the sanctuary. No one handed us a bulletin. We found a stack in a window sill. We received a form letter from the senior pastor whom I knew was on vacation.

I was disappointed, and I have been attending churches all of my life. Can you imagine how someone who has never attended church might feel?

When Dr. Luke describes the early church in Acts 2, their behavior reveals warmth, welcome, and winsomeness. When Pentecost came, they did not remain in the upper room and wait for visitors to show up. They burst out into the streets to share the good news. They invited people into their homes. They shared meals. They prayed for each other. They helped each other with their needs.

The fruit of baptisms and new members comes when we open our arms and our hearts to people who are weary and wounded by life. The fruit of Acts 2 grows when we cultivate warm and welcoming relationships.

Many church leaders ask, "Why don't they come?" People outside the church are asking the same question, "If the church really cares, why don't they come?"

How is your church doing on radical hospitality?

Church Builders Club Targets Living Faith

Bishop Ough has announced the next Church Builders Club call is for Living Faith near Vincent in the Foothills District. They are a new church start begun in 1999, positioned to address the growth in Washington County expected due to the completion of the Blannerhasset Bridge bypassing Parkersburg. They are hoping to break ground on a new facility soon.

Each member of the Church Builders Club pledges at least $25 per call for 2-3 calls per year to assist churches selected by the Bishop and Cabinet who are implementing plans for growth and expansion of ministries. 100% of your gifts go to the target church. Administrative costs are covered by your apportionments. To give to Living Faith, check out the conference web site: www.westohioumc.org/page.asp?PKValue=1181 or contact the District Office. We'll send you a brochure.

Syracuse Charge Builds New Church

The Syracuse Charge – Asbury, Forest Run, and Minersville – in Meigs County has raised $13,400 to build a new church, a new parsonage, and provide Bibles for the North Katanga Conference. Pastor Bob Robinson explains that they have been working on this project for several months. Gaston and Jeane Ntambo visited the churches in June while traveling among partner conferences.

Gaston Ntambo is the son of Bishop Ntambo of the North Katanga Conference in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. He is also the sole pilot of Wings of the Morning, providing emergency flights for medical needs throughout the country. Jeane provides ground support and weather information, since there are no government services for these needs in most of the country.

Gaston and Jeane would like to purchase a slightly larger plane that will hold more patients and require less expensive fuel. For the many people in isolated villages, this is their only hope in times of medical crisis.

Can the Foothills District match the Syracuse Charge with a $13,400 contribution to Wings of the Morning to help buy this new plane? For more info, check out www.northkatangaumc.org/wingsmorn.html.

Currently, on any average Sunday more than 10,000 people attend worship in Foothills District Churches. Would each church send $1 for each person in attendance by the end of 2007? Send it to the Foothills District Office marked WINGS, and we can help relieve real suffering for people who need our help most. More information will come at the precharge conference briefings.

Basic Administration Class

On Aug 22 Brent Watson and Sherri Rogers are leading a class on basic church administration relating to year-end reports, audits, charge conference forms, email communications, etc. Pastors who struggle with these tasks are receiving "special" invitations to attend. Lay persons who may assist with these tasks are welcome to attend as well. There is no cost to the class, but reservations are needed. Contact Sherri: 740.797.4581 or office@foothillsdistrict.org

- Members of the United Methodist Church can join the West Ohio United Methodist Credit Union. Membership is easy. The Credit Union offers checking, home banking, savings & certificate accounts, money market accounts, atm access, loans, and credit cards. For more info, check out www.umethodist.com or call 800.373.1059.
- Recent newspaper headlines said, "Ohio Lottery Reports Increase In Sales, Funds To Schools." Hopefully, at some point, Ohioans will begin to realize that an increase in lottery profits doesn't provide additional dollars to local school districts. An increase in lottery profits only replaces already allocated funds. In addition, many people are not aware that, according to an Ohio Department of Education official, lottery profits account for less than 6 percent of local, state and federal funds spent on public education in Ohio. All news media should include this information when reporting that an increase in lottery profits benefit schools!

- General Board of Pensions is hosting a Clergy Benefits Academy, Ann Arbor, Nov 5-7, 2007, for clergy of any age who want to learn more about the pension program or your own personal pension benefits. For more info, check out www.gboph.org and click on "Events and Education."
- The Meigs Cooperative Parish has the following available: Electric Stove with 10 Burners (Suggested donation at least $50) and a Convection Oven (Suggested donation at least $50)

SFTBHT

Are you taking a special offering for "Strength for Today and Bright Hope for Tomorrow" this fall? Would you like bulletin inserts to interpret the significance of this mission? The District Office will send you a digital copy via email in the next few weeks. Pick a Sunday of your choice and share the ministry with your congregation.

Free Store Offers Hospitality Training

First UMC, Zanesville invites pastors and lay leadership to join in the fun of discovery as you learn ways your congregation can live even more passionately Jesus' ministry of radical hospitality in the 21st century. Rev. Brenda Buckwell Lifland will guide us through this time as we experience Benedictine spirituality of hospitality and rethink intimacy, community and small groups within congregations. RSVP by August 1, 2007 by calling (740) 452-7117 or emailing zanesfirstumc@sbcglobal.net

Cost: Please bring a "new item" donation to benefit the Free Store. Suggested Items: linens, cleaning supplies, personal hygiene items, kitchen pans, dishes, glassware.

Did you know?

The Conference Council on Development now offers fund management for churches with endowment funds, parsonage escrows, or other types of long term investments.

In addition, the Council on Development can help a local church process gifts of securities and estates for a local church. They will receive gifts, assess the value of the gift, provide a receipt to the donor, liquidate the gift, pay the commission (brokerage fee), and remit the proceeds for its intended use.

Typically, the donor can designate through the Council on Development these gifts for any United Methodist purpose including their local church for things such as: the Operating Fund, Building Fund, and Endowment Fund.

For more info, contact Greg Traucht, gtraucht@wocumc.org or 800.437.0028.

Ethics Training Makeup

For pastors who did not attend the Ethics Training at Clergy Session, there is a make up session in the Foothills District on Sat Sept 15, 9:30 am – 12 noon @ Logan Immanuel. Rev. Cean Wilson will lead a team of trainers to raise our awareness and develop skills for developing healthy and safe relationships within the church. All pastors who did not attend in May are expected to attend. Staff members and lay volunteers are welcome. For more info, contact your friendly neighborhood District Office.

Apportionment Giving Up

Recent reports from Rev. Stan Sutton, Conference Treasurer, indicates that churches are giving generously and faithfully to the connectional ministries of the conference. Due to the hard work of many church leaders and the cost containment of realignment, the conference is re-establishing financial stability once again. The Foothills District leads the league with 36 churches who have already paid their conference apportionments in full. Thanks for your hard work and faithful giving.
